Access To The Land

Land

The fields extend to approximately 52.36 acres (21.19 hectares) of productive agricultural land, ideally suited for the rearing of livestock and keeping horses. Accessed via a track running to the rear of the farm buildings and property, the land is well configured for efficient management and is suitable for both grazing and livestock.

The fields are well maintained, benefitting from quality stock-proof fencing and an abundance of mature trees, enhancing both shelter and amenity value. The land also presents potential for environmental and natural capital opportunities, including biodiversity net gain and carbon sequestration, alongside eligibility for rural payment schemes.

In addition, the holding is particularly well suited to equestrian use, with nearby bridlevays and direct access to extensive areas designated as 'right to roam' land, offering excellent riding and recreational opportunities. Further details regarding individual field sizes are available upon request from the agents.
